Subject: City of Los Angeles Minimum Wage Increase
From: WagesLA LA
Date: 05/31/2016 11:31 AM
To: WagesLA LA
BCC: info@wilshirecenter.com

Good morning,

As an organization that represents businesses in the Los Angeles area, you play a critical role in equipping businesses to succeed. The City of Los Angeles would like to introduce you to some important changes to minimum wage requirements that will take effect on July 1, 2016 for businesses operating in Los Angeles. The City of Los Angeles will require a minimum wage of $10.50 for businesses and employees that meet the eligibility criteria. Paid sick time requirements are currently in the process of moving through the City Council and may also be effective as early as July 1, 2016. Information and tools for businesses are available at www.wagesla.lacity.org and questions can also be answered by calling 1-844-WAGESLA or e-mailing wagesla@lacity.org.

We'd appreciate if you would include the content below in an upcoming newsletter to your membership. Also, we'd welcome the opportunity to meet with you and answer any questions you may have. Please respond with a contact name and let us know if we can provide any additional information.

Thank you,
Office of Wage Standards
Bureau of Contract Administration
Department of Public Works
1-844-WAGESLA (924-3752)
http://wagesla.lacity.org/

Inline image 2

Suggested newsletter content:
Some important changes to minimum wage requirements will take effect on July 1st for businesses operating in Los Angeles. The City of Los Angeles will require a minimum wage of $10.50 for businesses and employees that meet the eligibility criteria. Paid sick time requirements may also be effective as early as July 1, 2016. Information and tools for businesses, including deferral applications and mandatory workplace posters, are available at www.wagesla.lacity.org and questions can also be directed to 1-844-WAGESLA or wagesla@lacity.org.